IMPACT STORY

In Cameroon, it’s often a struggle to drive from one village to another. But now even in remote areas of the country people can access God’s Word online.

One Bible translator in Cameroon even helped a soldier at a local checkpoint download five versions of the New Testament—including an audio recording and a translation in Ewondo, the soldier’s heart language.

Thanks to ETEN and the DBL, this man and thousands around the world can experience transformation by reading or hearing God’s Word in their own heart languages.
